Diploma in European Union Law
Studies

DIPLOMA

The DEDUE university degree is part of the Jean Monnet action, created in 1990 by the Commission of the European Communities, in order to develop studies on European integration in university programs.

This diploma offers solid training in European Union law, understood in both its institutional and material aspects. Knowledge of this law is essential today to exercise any professional activity with a cross-border dimension.

The diploma is also aimed at all European citizens wishing to understand the European Union.

Teaching is provided by university staff (professors, lecturers and researchers) specialised in European law.

OBJECTIVES

The DEDUE aims to provide additional competence and specific legal expertise to registered students.

This is a course for students wishing to orient their further studies towards European law, or wishing to have a solid base of knowledge in this subject.

PRACTICAL ARRANGEMENTS

The course takes place over 9 months and requires a total time commitment of 100 hours.

In order to facilitate access to the course, classes take place from 5pm to 7pm or 8pm every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from October to March.

The Diploma in European Union Law Studies consists of three modules, all compulsory.

There is one 3-hour written exam for each of the 3 modules. These exams are programmed at the end of the school year, outside of the exam periods reserved for Bachelor's and Master's.
